WALL STREET IN WAITING MOOD PEACH PRICES SOAR WITH SOME MODEST GAINS IN THE LIST.

NEW YORK, July 29.-There are | ODAY'S SALES ON many characteristics of a waiting market, an indisposition toward any espe cial activity pending another Govern ment crop report, the settlement of the troubles in Spain, and a new buying Co., bankers and brokers, Hibbs Building, movement. Many traders who have members New York Stock Exchange, Wash held stocks for months, waiting for the ington Stock Exchange, and Chicago Board 200 mark on Union Pacific, sold out of Trade.) yesterday and on previous days of the week. They took some stock back this morning, but not very much. The situation abroad is not to the liking of conservative operators and they are therefore disposed to await a reinstatement of Spanish civil authorities. There were some bearish stories on Southern Pacific, but they did not find confirmation in the action of the stock which showed good strength even to the extent of 1/2 point rise in a market not noticeable for its strength, despite the fact that the undertone was satisfactory and rather indicative of higher prices later on. Southern Pacific now has about $40,000,000 free cash on hand, as compared with a floating debt of $52,000,000 a year ago. The favorable change amounting to $92,000,000, would seem to be a reason in itself why Southern Pacific should not be sold. Moreover the Harriman plans for Southern Pacific have not been carried

Southern Pacific have not been carried to completion.

There have been more or less crop damage reports, and the action of Chicago wheat market has partially confirmed the stories of rust and damage from other sources. This is another cause for cessation in activity.

Brokerage firms and commission houses have expected that July would show light returns from business executed, but they have been disagreeably disappointed in that the business has been satisfactory, the last few days making up for the earlier quietness.

A. G. Plant & Co.-The gravity of the situation in Spain in respect to the disorders in that country and the situat-tion in Mcrocco have unsettled most of the foreign securities markets. Consois and investments are inclined to droop for this reason and the unfavorable Bank of England return is also a depressing influence. Home rails are nervous over the serious aspects of the coal labor differences. The slump in the Spanish securities unsettled other foreign issues, but prices have recovered from the lowest figures. Hesitancy is observed in Kaffrs, for which condition Paris is considered responsible. Coppers show continued weakness.

ALEXANDRIA MAYOR OUTFLIES WRIGHTS

And Besides, Mr. Paff Didn't Need a Biplane, Monoplane, or Monorails to Hold 5,000 People Breathless With Admiration for Their City Father.

Mayor Pfaff, of Alexandria, made a brief but hair-raising flight from the top of the hill at George Washington Park yesterday afternoon in the presence of 5,000 people who were waiting for the Wright aeroplane.

The mayor proved that he is something of an aviator. He also proved he doesn't need biplanes, monoplanes, or monoralis in his business. All he needs is a gentle little shove—arch he is off. The mayor carried with him as a pas-

The mayor said he had. Schneider said he hadn't. And, then, the mayor began cranking the propellers on his aerial machine.

Schneider, as cool as Lieutenant Lahm, when that official rode for the fight. Pfaff, with a final glance about him to see that nothing was out of order, nodded to his assistants, and turned on the current. There was a rumbling noise, and the crowd fell back.

For a moment, supreme intensity reigned, as Mayor Pfaff's machine veer form right to left and seemed to experience difficulty in gaining impetus. According to a dispatch from San Francisco, received in the Capital this morning, Miss Daisy Sutton, sister of the dead lieutenant, has declared that among the effects found at the time of his death was an unsigned letter reading:

"Sutton. Consider gun-play off. I was

Will Not Talk. Mrs. Sutton would not talk about the ossible relation of the letter of which her daughter spoke and her son's death. It is known, however, that not only was such a communication found, but that such a communication four it was signed by an officer.

It was signed by an officer.

It is understed also that the man who wrote that note afterwards denied its authenticity. That this officer had anything to do with the killing of Lieutenant Sutton is not believed by those familiar with the case. It is possible, however, that this officer may have had some knowledge of the circumstances surrounding the case.

INQUIRY MAY MOVE CONGRESS TO ACT

The Sutton investigation at Annagids going to command the attention of is going to command the attention of Congress.

It isn't often that a Congress gets through the appointed period of its existence without having its attention called to the hazing and related disturbances at the Military and Maval Academies; and indications are that the Sutton affair will get a thorough airing before the session of next winter is ended. This, too, no matter what may be the outcome of the present inquiry. Representative Good of Iowa, who has been ollowing with much care the investigation, declares that when the naval appropriation bill is before Congress next winter, he will offer an amendment providing that no part of the appropriation shall be used to pay salaries to the three young officers whose fight with Sutton has been under inquiry.

Beekman Winthrop.

Captain Casolino commanding the Italian cruiser Etruria which is anchored in the harbor off Washington Barracks paid his respects to President Taft today.

He was accompanied during his visit to the White House by Assistant Secretary of the Navy Beekman Winthrop retary of the Navy Beekman Winthrop stances. If he was able to get out a gun he would be likely to make a different use of it. The whole thing strikes me as strange, and, not matter what may be the conclusions about the death of Sutton and the responsibility for it, there is certainly good ground for taking some action against the men who went out to fight, and piled themselves on him."
